JIGU! THUNDER DRUMS OF CHINA will appear at _____ (venue) _____ on _____ (day and date) _____ at _____ (time) _____.

In Chinese, Jigu literally means 'to beat or touch the drum', and beat the drum with passion and vigor is what these performers do best! Audiences will be transfixed by the awesome musicality and power of JIGU! THUNDER DRUMS OF CHINA. The fine art of drumming and percussive performance is demonstrative of China's rich and historic culture, especially in and around the Shanxi Province, which is where the performers call home. In China, the drum and percussive arts are passed down from generation to generation, and ancient drumming tradition can be traced back many centuries to the ancient city of Jiangzhou, located in what is now Xinjiang County, in modern China. The old city of Jiangzhou was the home to Emperor Li Shimin (Tang Dynasty A.D. 618-907), and his celebrated percussion orchestra. In fact, some of the earliest archaeological evidence of Chinese percussion music found has been unearthed in the Shanxi region.

Performances by JIGU! THUNDER DRUMS OF CHINA are deeply rooted in this rich heritage. An intricate blend of traditional and modern elements, this fascinating, innovative show, conceived by the producers of THE PEKING ACROBATS®, has captivated audiences of all ages. The drummers, percussionists, and musicians of JIGU! THUNDER DRUMS OF CHINA, range in age from about 16 to 30 years old, and their youthful exuberance shines through in every performance they give on their tours. The show offers intense, high-tech lighting and special effects that patrons won't want to miss. Not only will audiences be immersed in a wonderland of sight and sound, they will be swept away by the incredible drumming power and astounding musicianship displayed by these talented performers!
